BLACK LEG BREAKS OUT IN COUNTY.

To Gattl Owners:—Several outbreaks of Black Leg have been reported in the county recently. This disease usually is fatal and occurs in cattle from 6 months to 2 years old. There is no cure but is easily prevented. This is done by vaccination and caution in using pastures where the disease occurred the year before. All owners who lost cattle last year from Black Leg should have their young stock vaccinated at once as the disease is very probably on their place. Those living in communities where the disease has broken out recently should also have their stock vaccinated. I am prepared to do this vaccinating and will be glad to come to any part of the county to do it. There will be no cost except for the Vaccine which amounts to 10 cents per head. Vaccination in time practically assures against the disease and the cost is too small to neglect it.

Yours very truly,

Jos. W. Harth,
County Agent.

RAPID PROGRESS BEING MADE

In Building Cantonment at Stithton—Change of Dixie Highway Proposed.

The erection of the cantonment at Stithton is now progressing rapidly. The L. C. has built a half-dozen switches into the area of the site and hundreds of carloads of lumber are being delivered and hundreds of laborers are arriving daily. The work of construction of several buildings is already under headway. A 800-community building will be built in connection with the cantonment, while the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus will also erect buildings at the cantonment.

The farmers are being removed from the new reservation regardless of their gardens and growing crops. The military authorities propose to change the location of the Dixie Highway by running it from near Bloomington via Stithton, up the L. C. to Tiago Springs and re-entering this side of West Point. A report was received Tuesday that the Government would commandeer all the buildings in Stithton but as the report is unconfirmed, the probability is that there is nothing in it.—E-town Mirror.

MRS. HARRIS RELATED

Interesting Facts Concerning China's Growth. Returned Missionary Spoke in Methodist Church Thursday Evening.

The people of Cloverport who took advantage of their opportunity in going to hear Mrs. S. S. Harris, a returned missionary from China who spoke at the Methodist church Thursday evening, must have felt amply repaid for any effort it might have been to them to have left their cool lawns. Altho Mrs. Harris had been speaking all day to the members of the group meeting, she apparently was not in the least fatigued nor the worse for wear. She started out on her most interesting address by saying that our esteemed President struck the responsive chord when he stated that America entered the war and was fighting "to make the world safe for Democracy." And she added that America had been doing this very thing for several hundred years from the fact that American men and women have gone out as missionaries or soldiers of the Cross to save the world and make it safe for democracy. The churches could appropriately have had service flags for these soldiers, she said.

Mrs. Harris then proceeded to tell of China's remarkable growth since the missionaries had been allowed to enter there. She spoke of the reform movements in foot-binding and the opium habit; and of how the Chinese rid themselves of an Emperor. Mrs. Harris said the Chinaman was a loyal patriot. Quite humorously she related how the Chinese executives got tired of so much German propaganda, and they didn't do a thing but bundle up all the Germans in their country and intern them at a certain port. That's the way the Chinese do things, said Mrs. Harris. She also told of what they did for the American Red Cross War Fund Drive. Fifty-thousand loyal Chinese gave $100,000 to this drive. Mrs. Harris told many other interesting things of the neighboring countries and her address could not but helped to have converted the disbelievers of missions to a certain extent. She was the guest of Mrs. F. M. Smith during her twenty-four hours' stay in this city.

SERVING IN FRONT LINE

Trenches. Estel Manning, a Breckinridge County Boy, Writes of His Experiences On Firing Line. Letter Censored.

Here is a note from Estel Manning a Breckinridge county boy, who has had experiences on the front line trenches and thus far has escaped without injury. The short epistle was addressed to his mother, Mrs. W. E. Manning, of Chenault, and the tenor of it denotes the character of men Breckinridge county is furnishing Uncle Sam. The missing words is where the note was censored, parts of it being torn off completely. It reads:

Dear Mother:—Your letter of June 11 arrived yesterday afternoon and it surely was a pleasure to read it.

I have experienced many things since I wrote to you last. I have been in the front line trenches, and the life is one that no one knows about only those who experience it. I saw some hard fighting, in fact several days of it. I went — days without taking my clothes off to sleep. (Torn out) without a scratch and feeling fine.

My opinion of sunny France has changed somewhat, tho there are some pretty spots here, "for mine" I wouldn't give two acres of American soil for this whole country. I hope some day to be able to tell you of my experiences and adventures. I am glad you are helping the Red Cross, for God knows we need everything we can get. Do not worry about me for I am a man—a better man than ever before and can take care of myself with the help of God, and mother's prayers.

Give my love to them all, and write soon. Bye-bye and best wishes.

Your loving son

Estel."

REP. CAIN MISQUOTED.

The Breckinridge News, Cloverport, Ky.

Gentlemen:—My article relating to the "Duty of Taxpayers" was appropriately headed and given conspicuous space in your paper for which consideration I thank you. However I was very much chagrined to note that I had been misquoted and I was made very uncomfortable thereby.

You will find that I am represented as "approving" the original Bill referred to, when the fact of the matter is, that I worked and voted against it and so stated in the article as printed:—"Especially those of us who approved the original Bill" Should have been:

"Especially those of us who "opposed" the original Bill."

Please correct in your next issue and will you not make it as conspicuous as possible.

Yours very truly,

The word to which Mr. Cain has reference, was a misprint and the Breckinridge News is grateful to Mr. Cain for calling attention to it and thus place him in the right, where he justly belongs in the eyes of the public.
